

L&T Edu-Solutions PORTABLE SKILLS DEVELOPMENT

Many individuals who fail to complete their grade 12 or fail to enrol into a tertiary institution are at higher risk of being unemployed. Stats SA reported that 37% of 10 million young people between age of 15-24 were disengaged from the labour market and have lost hope of finding jobs that suits their skills (or lack of) in the areas they reside. These are the larger participants in community unrests and criminal activities.

L&T Edu-Solutions has partnered with corporate companies and training institutions to offer impactful training to unemployed individuals in rural communities, mining towns and townships. The programme offers skills that can be used to seek employment or for self-employment. The latter is further encouraged through dedicated workshop on business skills and entrepreneurship. Skills include:

- Farming (crop & animal)
- Plumbing
- General Electrician
- Welding
- Bricklayer
- Carpentry
- Tiling and Painting
- Garment production

We partner with accredited institution to enrol beneficiaries. We tailor the programmes to the client's intention as well as to align to the beneficiary's future prospects. The programme can also be tailored to enskill employees nearing their retirement enabling them to establish business during retirement.

Founded in 2015, L&T EduSolutions has supported over 10,000 learners nationwide, focusing on regions like Limpopo, North West, Mpumalanga, and the Northern Cape. We collaborate with leading mining companies like Anglo American, De Beers, Glencore, Modikwa Joint Venture, and Hotazel Manganese. Our social investment partners include JET, KST, and Tshikululu, while we also work closely with universities such as UNIVEN, Vaal, and NWU
